

BookMe

All in one booking app.

Table of Contents

From problem to product — how BookMe is shaping the future of beauty tech.

01 Introduction

What BookMe and BookMe Business are.

02 Problem & Solution

Why the market need us – and how we solve it.

03 Market Opportunity

Beauty industry size and growth potential.

04 Business & Product

Our apps, features, and revenue model.

05 Traction & Validation

Users, patterns, and early results.

06 Financial & Funding

Projection and investment goals.

Meet the Founder

Who We Are

Global-minded founders with experience in Europe's digital platforms. Strong tech background and financial expertise from Citi Bank.

Javokhir Nematillaev
CEO

Emir Marles
CTO

Dilshod Zokirov
CFO

Problem Identification

The beauty industry is growing, but most salons still operate offline. Clients can't easily book, and salons lack digital tools.

1) Weak digital presence

New salons struggle to attract clients without an online presence or marketplace listing.

2) Manual operations

Most salons manage appointments and client data by phone or social media — no CRM or scheduling system.

3) Fragmented booking

Clients cannot see available time slots, compare services, or book reliably in one place.

Conclusion

The beauty industry in Uzbekistan is ready for digital transformation. Salons need visibility, automation, and a unified booking platform — a gap that BookMe is designed to fill.

Salons and clients face daily inefficiencies — from low visibility to lost revenue. BookMe solves these pain points by providing a unified platform for discovery, booking, and management, unlocking growth for both sides.

Current Solution

A digital ecosystem connecting clients and salons in one platform.

BookMe (Client App):

- Makes finding and booking beauty services fast and reliable.
- Eliminates the need for calls or messages, giving clients full visibility and control.
- Builds trust by showing verified salons and reviews.

BookMe Business (Salon App):

- Helps salons attract more clients and increase revenue.
- Automates appointment management and client tracking, saving time and reducing errors.
- Provides a platform to showcase quality, compete, and grow in the digital marketplace.

Market Size

Uzbekistan's beauty market is large, fast-growing, and ready for digital transformation — and BookMe is positioned to lead it.

SALES CONVERSION

- ✓ Initial focus on major cities, particularly Tashkent with ~1,965 salons

GENERATE TRAFFIC

- ✓ Digitally active clients and salons ready to use online booking — ~$150M, around 30% of the total market.

SALES CONVERSION

- ✓ All salons and beauty professionals across the country — ~20,000+ businesses, growing ~7% per year.

LOYALTY PROGRAM

- ✓ Uzbekistan's total beauty and salon industry — ~$500M annually.

SWOT Analysis

BookMe stands at the intersection of a fast-growing beauty market and rising digitalization in Central Asia.

Strength

- First-mover advantage
- Dual-app ecosystem
- Localized product
- Low operating costs.

S

Weaknesses

- Low digital adoption among smaller salons outside major cities.
- Limited financial resources for large-scale marketing.

W

Opportunities

- Growing smartphone penetration
- Untapped regional markets — potential to scale to Kyrgyzstan and Tajikistan.
- Rising interest in digital payments and loyalty systems.

O

Threats

- Entry of foreign competitors (e.g., Booksy, Fresha).
- Slow adoption rate among traditional salons.

T

Target Audience

BookMe primarily focuses on urban residents who actively use smartphones and prefer convenient, digital solutions for managing their time and beauty routines.

Competitive Landscape

Analyzing the landscape to highlight BookMe's unique advantage

Altegio Direct Competitor	Dasyor Indirect Competitor
Altegio (Russia): operates in the CIS but has no branch in Uzbekistan. Promotion is weak, with only 50 stores operating in Tashkent.	Dasyor (Uzbekistan): 6 months on the market, limited distribution
The customer app is clunky and does not operate like a marketplace for different services. On top of that, the customer app should get ordered by the business	Our advantages: desktop version of the application for businesses, telegram integration, qr codes and two mobile applications

Product Demo.

BookMe – Client App

Product Demo.

BookMe Business – business app

Revenue Model

Our business model combines multiple revenue streams to ensure steady growth and scalability.

Revenue Streams

- Basic version free, premium subscription unlocks analytics and priority listing: $15/month for salons
- Salons can pay for higher placement in search results and featured listings.
- In-app advertising opportunities for beauty brands and local partners.
- Businesses can send personalized promos, reminders, and offers to clients.

Marketing Strategy

Our Growth Go To Market Plan

For Clients:

- Instagram & TikTok marketing with local content
- Targeted ads to reach active beauty service users
- Gift vouchers & referral bonuses to attract new users
- BookMe Points system to boost engagement and loyalty

For Businesses:

- Direct outreach to salon owners and masters
- Offline marketing — flyers, beauty fairs, partnerships
- Local networking and demo sessions to show real benefits

Financial Projection

- Annual Total Revenue Projection:
~$43,000
- Growth Rate: ~60–80% quarterly increase after initial traction

1st Quarter

$ 1,500

Pilot launch in Tashkent, early marketing push

2nd Quarter

$ 5,000

Expand salon base, start premium subscriptions

3rd Quarter

$ 12,000

Regional marketing and expanding

4th Quarter

$ 25,000

Monetization scaling, entry to new cities and think about Central Asian countries

Use of Fund

Efficient allocation to achieve growth within 6 months.

- Salaries – $15,000 (43%): Founders and one developer to ensure full-time focus on product development and stability.
- Marketing – $18,000 (51%): Main driver of growth — targeted ads, influencer collaborations, and offline salon outreach.
- Servers & Infrastructure – $600 (2%): Hosting, Google Cloud Run, MongoDB Atlas, and maintenance costs.
- Operations & Legal – $1,000 (3%): Legal documentation, administrative expenses, and basic operations.

Total Investment: $30,000 – $35,000

Thank You for your time and attention

+998777273179

<https://bookme-kg26.onrender.com>

uzbookme@gmail.com

<https://apps.apple.com/uz/app/bookme-business/id6749468673>